ALASKA SEA GRANT

STATE FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM

The Alaska Sea Grant State Fellowship Program strengthens the workforce dedicated to healthy fisheries and coastal environments by encouraging graduate students to launch careers in Alaska.

The state fellowship program provides a unique professional opportunity for graduate students interested in marine resources and policy decision-making in Alaska. The program is a paid
Twelve-month fellowship that provides on-the-job experience in Alaska. Highly motivated graduate students are matched with host state or federal agencies in Alaska. Graduate students close to completing a degree, or with a recently earned degree, are eligible. The deadline to apply to Alaska Sea Grant for this fellowship is February 21, 2018.

Fellows receive a $3,500 monthly stipend for the twelve-month assignment. Fellows may be located in Fairbanks, Anchorage, or Juneau, with possible start date of July 1.

For more about this fellowship visit the Alaska Sea Grant State Fellowship web page or contact Tara Borland, Alaska Sea Grant Program Manager, (907) 474-7014.
