Jack R. Luick Memorial Travel Fund

The Jack R. Luick Memorial Travel Fund was established to provide travel awards to graduate students studying the nutritional and physiological ecology of ungulates.

Qualifications

1. Enrolled as a graduate student at UAF.
2. In good academic standing.
3. Pursuing a course of study in nutritional or physiological ecology of unglulates.
4. The application should include:
   5. A letter from the student to the fund’s selection committee summarizing education, experience, research interests and career goals.
   6. A letter of support from the student’s major professor.
   7. A conference agenda or synopsis.
   8. Title and abstract, if available, of the paper to be presented.

Submit entire packet to:

uaf-bw-dept@alaska.edu

UAF Department of Biology & Wildlife
PO Box 756100
Fairbanks, AK 99775-6100

For more information, call Pauline Thomas 907-474-6294. Applications are due June 30 for travel in the following academic year.